dedication

Because of the care, wisdom, and patience with which you, as our guides, have advised and aided us, and in view of all your many untiring efforts in our behalf, we, the members of the graduating class of 1942, with deepest affection, do sincerely dedicate this book to you, our grade advisers, Miss Biggs and Mrs. Rosenberg.

JOHN M. AVENT
PRINCIPAL

To the Class of 1942:

An effort has been made in this yearbook to give a picture of the people, and of the incidents in Curtis that you will like to recall in the years to come. The emphasis has been on the informal side, so that you will have a record of the boys and girls and of the men and women whom you know so well, not as they are usually photographed, but as you like to remember them.

Probably nowhere but in America could such a record be made. At least, at the present moment, nowhere but in America could it be truthfully pictured that boys and girls of your age are spending four years with their teachers, in freedom, with mutual self respect, for achievement and growth. This is what we mean when we say "our way of life." It is this way of life, we believe, that produces the finest fruits of personality and character. It is for this way of life that we fight

It's Here!

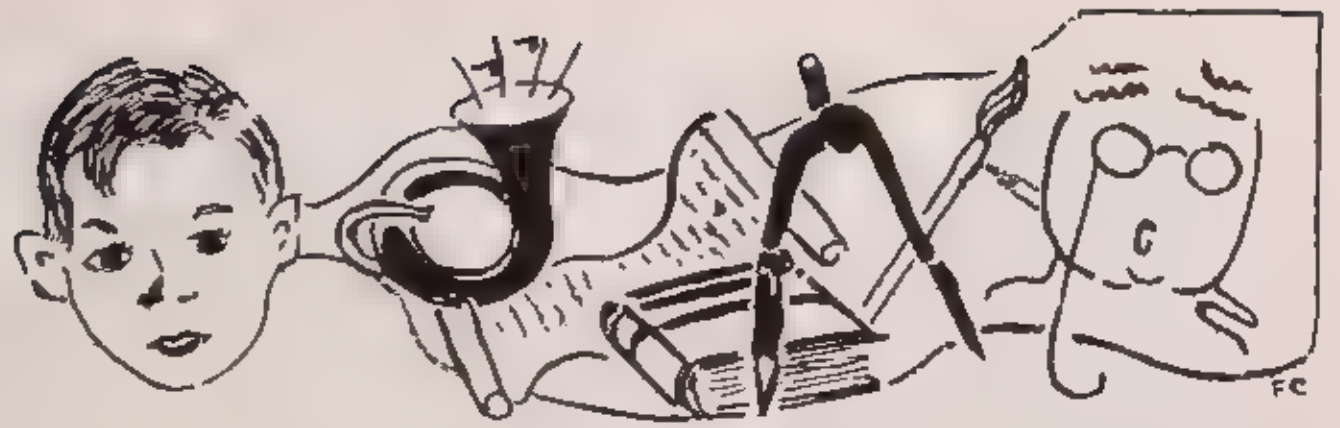

● November 1941 at Curtis was a scene of many querulous expressions on the faces of the students. The cause—the unique poster display announcing a new type of yearbook. With the sudden flashing of bulbs and clicking of cameras in class-rooms, in halls, from windows, the wave of curiosity reached a climax. The staff combined its efforts in an endeavor to capture those familiar scenes that have been so representative of Curtis. It is our hope that as you glance through the pages of this book, you will find as much pleasure in reliving your days at Curtis as we have had in presenting them to you

Curtis works hard!

How else could our tremendous traffic problem be solved without the efficient management and the tireless efforts of a selected group of students? How else could our school work be completed without our comprehensive library and the guidance of our instructors? How else could the various worthy causes receive contributions from Curtis without the aid of our honor society?

COME! Let's browse through our marshal-infested corridors with a clear conscience, unmindful of the marshals' rules. Let's wander into our familiar classrooms and departments, no longer fearing the accusing glances of our former teachers. And lastly, let's cut the last nine periods and see Tommy Dorsey at the Paramount!

The Log is the silent spectator of Curtis. It goes everywhere, sees everything, and records just about everything it sees. Every activity noted in this book has been written up at some time or other by one of those inquisitive Log reporters. The Log and Yearbook staffs always vie for the honor of being called "the hardest working group at Curtis". The first probably has the lead over the latter as it comes out every two weeks; the work of one publication no sooner ends than that of the next begins.

THE BIOLOGY DEPARTMENT

In the scientific field we learned Biology, Applied Science, and Physiography under the direction of Margaret V. Walthall, Melvin Keene, Dorothy M. Blondel, Chairmen; Marjorie E. Vroom, Ethel P. Merlis, Biology Laboratory Assistant; and Oscar Goldin

MODERN LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

Our modern linguists grouped around the table are Waldtraut Schilke (French and Spanish), Beatrice Jacobsen (Spanish), Helena Heuermann (French), Olga R. Briotti (Italian), and Elizabeth Eakin (Spanish). Standing are George Fanning, Jr., Chairman, an adept in all the languages, and Louis P. Raichle (German).

PHYSICAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Resting after experiments in the laboratory are Alfred Pollock, Chairman of the Department, Irving Hauptman, Physics and Radio instructor, Louise Bartell, General Science teacher, Hillard B. Swede, Physical Science Laboratory Assistant, Edna Biggs, Physics teacher, and Paul Denzler, Chemistry instructor.

ARS GRATIA ARTIS

The Art Department, consisting of Miss Lisa Kraitz, Miss Anna M. Conn, its chairman, and Miss Theresa Beinert, helps to teach Curtis students in their first high school years, the general principles and benefits of art appreciation. If the students are interested in any particular field in art such as poster work, fashion drawing, ink or pencil drawings or designing, and if they show a sufficient amount of talent, they may continue their work in advanced classes.

The Curtis publications generally attribute their artistic covers and designs to students of the Art Department, who volunteer their services. The posters and notices seen around the school are arranged and designed by art teachers and students.

The rehearsals of the Orchestra will long be remembered by students assigned to 8th period study in Feldman Hall. Since the former had all the advantage, the students usually played audience. Everything went smoothly when the Orchestra played in tune and gave forth the well-known Victor Herbert melodies. However, the moment a sour note was struck or an instrument came in at the wrong time, down went Miss Atkinson's baton on the stand. From then on the Orchestra had to rehearse the same part until the keen ear of their director was satisfied and the student audience could only hopefully await the end of the period.

Yet, as a result of this daily practice, the Orchestra has been able to present a fine variety of interesting pieces at the Friday assemblies and on such special occasions as Graduation, and Parents' Night.

ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

Mildred K. Kammerer, Chairman. Emanuel Donow, Florence K. Goldwasser, Marion M. Robinson, Mildred Winer.

A provision for an Economics honor class last term resulted in the group shown here. Chosen from among those who had proved themselves proficient in history in former terms, these students, both seventh and eighth termers, were given the privilege of entering a class where they could discuss, at length, topics for which there would have been little time in the regular course. Unfortunately, program complications barred from the class several pupils worthy of admission. Subjects of current interest such as the possibility of inflation and its control, price ceilings, new taxes, et cetera, were feverishly debated on several occasions. Also, various books were read and reported upon by some of the especially interested students.

The guiding mentor of the group was Miss Kammerer, Chairman of the Economics Department.

TREASURE ISLAND

The Curtis Library is an essential part of the students' life. The functions of the library are many. It provides extensive reference material for the different classes as well as classical and current fiction for the reading enjoyment of the students themselves. The students are assisted in the selection of their books by Miss Phillips; under the able instruction of Miss Bamber, English classes are instructed in the use of the library.

At certain intervals, colorful exhibits by the school's various departments may be found on display in the library. Current magazines and books are continually being added.

HAMS AND BIBLIOPHILES

If you happened to hear mysterious "Dits" and "Das" as you passed room 203, it would not be a defect in your hearing, but the future hams improving their code speed. Curtis finally satisfied its radio "bugs" by giving them a radio class and a chance to build code oscillators and simple receiving sets. They learn technical data which, to a layman, would sound like "Q.R.M." Confusion, to you!

Do you have overdue books? Beware! The F. B. I. of Curtis will track you down in one of their early morning "rounds" in search of forgotten books. Or, in the afternoon, they will keep a watchful eye to see that bibliomaniacs don't absentmindedly stroll out of the library with a book tucked under their arm

“ARISTA”

The Arista League is composed of students who have attained a high scholastic average, shown fineness of personality and character and contributed services to the school. Its aim is to encourage the highest development of the group—physically, socially, intellectually and morally, exemplified by high scholarship and effective service to the school. During the past year, the Arista members have aided in sugar rationing, collecting money for the Red Cross and Tuberculosis funds, and have acted as guides on Parents' night. The emblem of Arista membership is a small oval pin, half red and half white.

The Fall leaders were Gloria Shannon and George Christensen; secretary, Gloria Pierrard, and treasurer, Stanley Johnson. The Spring term was led by Patricia Barlow and John Kolbjornsen, with Doris Larsen as secretary and Dominic Massa as treasurer. Miss Vroom is the Senate Leader.

Shakespeare? He has nothing on us! Why, if we were to peek into a little cubby-hole on the Mezzanine floor, a group of haggard-looking individuals would monopolize our attention, for this is the home of our Corsair staff, the annual literary and art magazine of Curtis. With Mrs. Taylor as a faculty adviser, the material, contributed by students who range from freshmen to seniors, placed first in the Columbia Press Conference this year. (C)

Busy little bees!!

Well, the Yearbook is finished. Under the excellent supervision of Natalie Negri, the fall term Editor-in-chief, and Mary Elizabeth Brown, the spring term Editor-in-chief, the staff has been made to slave as if its life were at stake. We wonder how we would have collected the Yearbook money from the students, clubs, and teachers, or kept the budget balanced without Tommy Fawcett and Josephine Raimondo. And to whom do we owe the pictures in the Yearbook—none other than Joe Streble and his assistants. Of course, it is needless to tell of Cecilia Silver and Luise Nicolais, who have been two of those truly faithful workers on the Literary and Advertising Committees. Last, but not least, Mrs. Briotti must be mentioned, for it is to her we owe the success of the entire Yearbook. Under her guidance and supervision, and with the untiring work of the staff, the book is finally published and the staff is very happy about the whole thing. Could it be they don't relish the idea of working until 8:00, P. M.?

How hard they worked!!!!

Day shift and NIGHT!!

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." Keeping that in mind, Curtis has taken the drudge out of school work by affording us with a large selection of extra curricular activities. In the Fall, we have thrilled to the plays of our championship football and basketball teams. Each Spring brings "diamond and cross-country enthusiasts" to the fore.

All year round "shiubone-whackers", "ball and socket fiends", and "water-loons" diligently attempt to master their respective sports.

So come on, Curtisites, relive the Christmas Pageant, Alumni Reunion, Junior Prom, and Class Parties. Recall those moments of play that were a pleasant part of your days at Curtis.

BIOLOGY HONOR SOCIETY

Faculty Adviser MISS DOROTHY M. BLONDEL

RAP RAP RAP "The meeting will please come to order", roars Henry Nielsen, president of the Biology Honor Society, above the din of scraping rats from the special activities committee. Forceps freeze in mid-air and the rats turn inquisitive eyes towards the front as Pat Barlow, secretary, reviews the film of an appendectomy shown at the Staten Island Hospital for the members (one of the many interesting programs planned by the vice-president, John Wood.) A member of the special activities committee reports that the rats, who have been on a diet of Coca-Cola, are doing as nicely as can be expected. After Charles Larsen, treasurer, gives the financial status of the Society, plans are formulated for the issuance of the Biologist at the annual Open Meeting

PHYSIOGRAPHY HONOR SOCIETY

"The Good Earth" is usually credited to the penmanship of Pearl Buck, but, at Curtis, we think of it in a different manner. Our Physiography Society, composed of students who have excelled in earth science, are, to us, the only people who can authentically talk about "the good earth". These young scientists delight in going on field trips, studying maps, and observing rock specimens. They may leave their hunting grounds bare in materials, but Curtis is made the recipient of these specimens. Don't think our explorer friends confine their scope to the earth alone, because it's "All This and Heaven Too."

SCRIBBLERS' CLUB

America has its Louisa May Alcott; and Edna St. Vincent Millay; Curtis also has its Scribblers' Club. This group, advised by Miss Union, can be seen each week deeply absorbed over sheets of paper on which they attempt to place their elusive thoughts, in poetry or prose. Perhaps some day we shall read of a famous poet or author who began his career in the Scribblers' Club of Curtis.

THE GIRLS BOWLING CLUB

Bowl Me Down

Strike! — That word is the most welcome to bowling enthusiasts. Every week the members of the Bowling Club meet to "strike" the pins down. When these addicts are in a generous mood, they "spare" the pins. With lusty screams and changing facial expressions the girls roll that ball as they vie for both individual and team honors. During the season the "Toppers" of the Curtis league proved worthy of their name by being high-scorers

"Prepare to canter!" shouts Johnny, as the Curtis riders start off. These riding enthusiasts, who pile into Johnny's station wagon each Thursday afternoon, anxiously await the opportunity to practice their routine. Gallantly they practice mounting from the ground, sitting the bouncing saddle and posting. At the end of the season, triumphant over their achievements, they cast off their riding attire and don their finery to attend the gala Riding Club Trot-fox trot to you.

ROLLER SKATING CLUB

Roll on, ye skaters, roll on! Every Friday afternoon a group of girls, wishing to impersonate Sonjia Henie on wheels, courageously practice on the smooth floor of the Palace Roller Rink. After a little practice and some horizontal glides, a few of the girls manage to remain vertical long enough to watch the more experienced skaters roll away with unusual ease and nonchalance. Graceful Gloria Benner leads the merry girls through intricate steps as they dance to music on their skates.

CHOIR

Milk bottles litter the lunchroom and marshals dash madly to the 'aud' to hear the Wednesday Musicales. In this weekly program the Choir presents its latest musical arrangements in harmony and parts and entertains the students with both classical and current pieces. Perhaps, however, this choral group is remembered best for the carols which it used to sing from floor to floor during the Christmas season, and also for the newer Christmas Pageant in which it takes an important part. Under Mr. Dare's fine direction this group has fully realized its aim, to bring a finer appreciation of music to Curtis students.

IL CIRCOLO ITALIANO

I membri del Circolo Italiano parteciparono a vari programmi durante l'anno, toccando così diversi campi di cultura italiana.

Organizzarono una vendita di torte e con i soldi ricevuti comprarono dei Francobolli di Guerra che poi donarono all'Organizzazione Generale della scuola.

Una sera, dopo molti preparativi, presentarono in scuola una Festa Italiana per i genitori e gli amici. Tutti erano in costumi italiani. Cantarono molte canzonette, ballarono la Quadriglia ed il Trescone e drammatizzarono la bella commedia le Scarpe Strette. Anche i vecchi membri del Circolo ritornarono a far parte di questa festa. Per noi tutti quella serata sarà sempre un bel ricordo.

THE HEARTHSTONE and CHEFS' CLUBS

Curtis High respects the culinary desires of both the weaker and the stronger sexes; not only their desires to eat fresh, homecooked tasties, but also their creative yearnings to produce them. As to individual activities, the Hearthstone Club (the feminine cuisinières) conducts a tea each term to which it invites the officers of the various clubs. The members also prepare and serve the refreshments at Open-School Night and the Mothers' Club teas.

As to the Chefs' Club, Curtisites have not had the pleasure of tasting many samples, but they have seen a stray chef with his own supply of sugar hastening along the hall with his chef's hat askew. These usurpers in a woman's field have made biscuits, cookies, cakes, and ice cream—delicious tasting, as the rumor goes. BUT! We shall be skeptics to the end until we have sampled some of their masterpieces

Knit one, purl two . . .

Let's take a trip to Niagara . . .

How does the map look now?

PONGO CLUB

To the rhythmic clicking of knitting needles, the girls of the Pongo Club complete their latest project. Once a week these girls who take time out for knitting, can be seen carrying their accessories to school. An essential part of their knitting paraphernalia is the familiar Red Cross "square." Formerly, the purpose of this club was to develop an interest in textile arts by making fashion marionettes, having library exhibits, and fashioning costume accessories. But since then the war needs have become more essential and the Pongo Club is doing its part by knitting for the Red Cross.

TRIP CLUB

Here they are—the little band of Curtis itinerants, ready to start out on another trip. Of course, they only visit those places that are educational—the Forest Lane Ice Cream Plant, (did you know they give samples?), the Automobile Show, and two performances, "Charley's Aunt", and "It Happens On Ice". But don't draw hasty conclusions, for there is also a serious side to their excursions. They have visited the Planetarium, the Statue of Liberty, and the News Building. From these visits, the members have gleaned many interesting facts concerning their city which they later habitually discuss in any restaurant which can satisfy their ravenous appetites.

CURRENT EVENTS CLUB

"Should there be a forty hour week?"; "Should India require her independence?"; "What kind of peace should we seek at the end of the War?"; "Are you pro or con?" These and many other current problems are seriously debated and discussed at the weekly meetings of the Current Events Club. Even though the Club is newly-formed at Curtis, it boasts a large membership of civic-minded students. Members may seem to come to blows over their private opinions, but a visitor to the club should not suppose that any dire results will be the outcome of the meetings.

ECONOMICS CLUB

"Variety is the spice of life," say the Curtis Economists. Therefore, they have a different chairman at each weekly forum. After the "pros" have their say and the "cons" theirs, a lively rebuttle is staged. These "tongue waggers" have developed quite an active debating group. When our Economists want to get firsthand information about places, they depart from Staten Island to the far off land of New York. There they visit such places as the National City Bank of New York, the Stock Exchange and the Red Hook Housing Project, where they gather knowledge for future discussions. At the December 18th meeting, Christmas was celebrated and these "tongue waggers" gorged themselves with delicacies instead of information on current topics.

Los Conquistadores de España descubrieron al Nuevo Mundo y vencieron a los incas y a los aztecas. Los Conquistadores de Curtis van poco a poco descubriendo al mundo hispano, dominando la lengua española y conociendo a sus Buenos Vecinos. En sus reuniones gozan de la música española, de juegos divertidos, de la discusión de las noticias panamericanas y de películas de viajes por los países que ellos mismos esperan visitar algún día.

Spanish atmosphere reigned in Feldman Hall! The Fiesta was on, with songs, dances, skits, all forming part of the gay program.

Four Island high schools participated. Curtis presented a playlet entitled "Muy Senor Mio," which dealt with the trials and tribulations of a secretary who falsely professed a knowledge of Spanish. A song and dance also presented by the "Spaniards" of Curtis, explained the different movements of a Spanish fan.

Tottenville High enacted a scene in a South American café. New Dorp presented an all-musical program, while Port Richmond portrayed life on a hacienda. Because they were judged as having given the best performances, Curtis and Port Richmond competed with other borough winners at Town Hall, New York. Miss Eakin supervised the entire affair and, in particular, prepared and rehearsed the Curtis program.

FOOTBALL

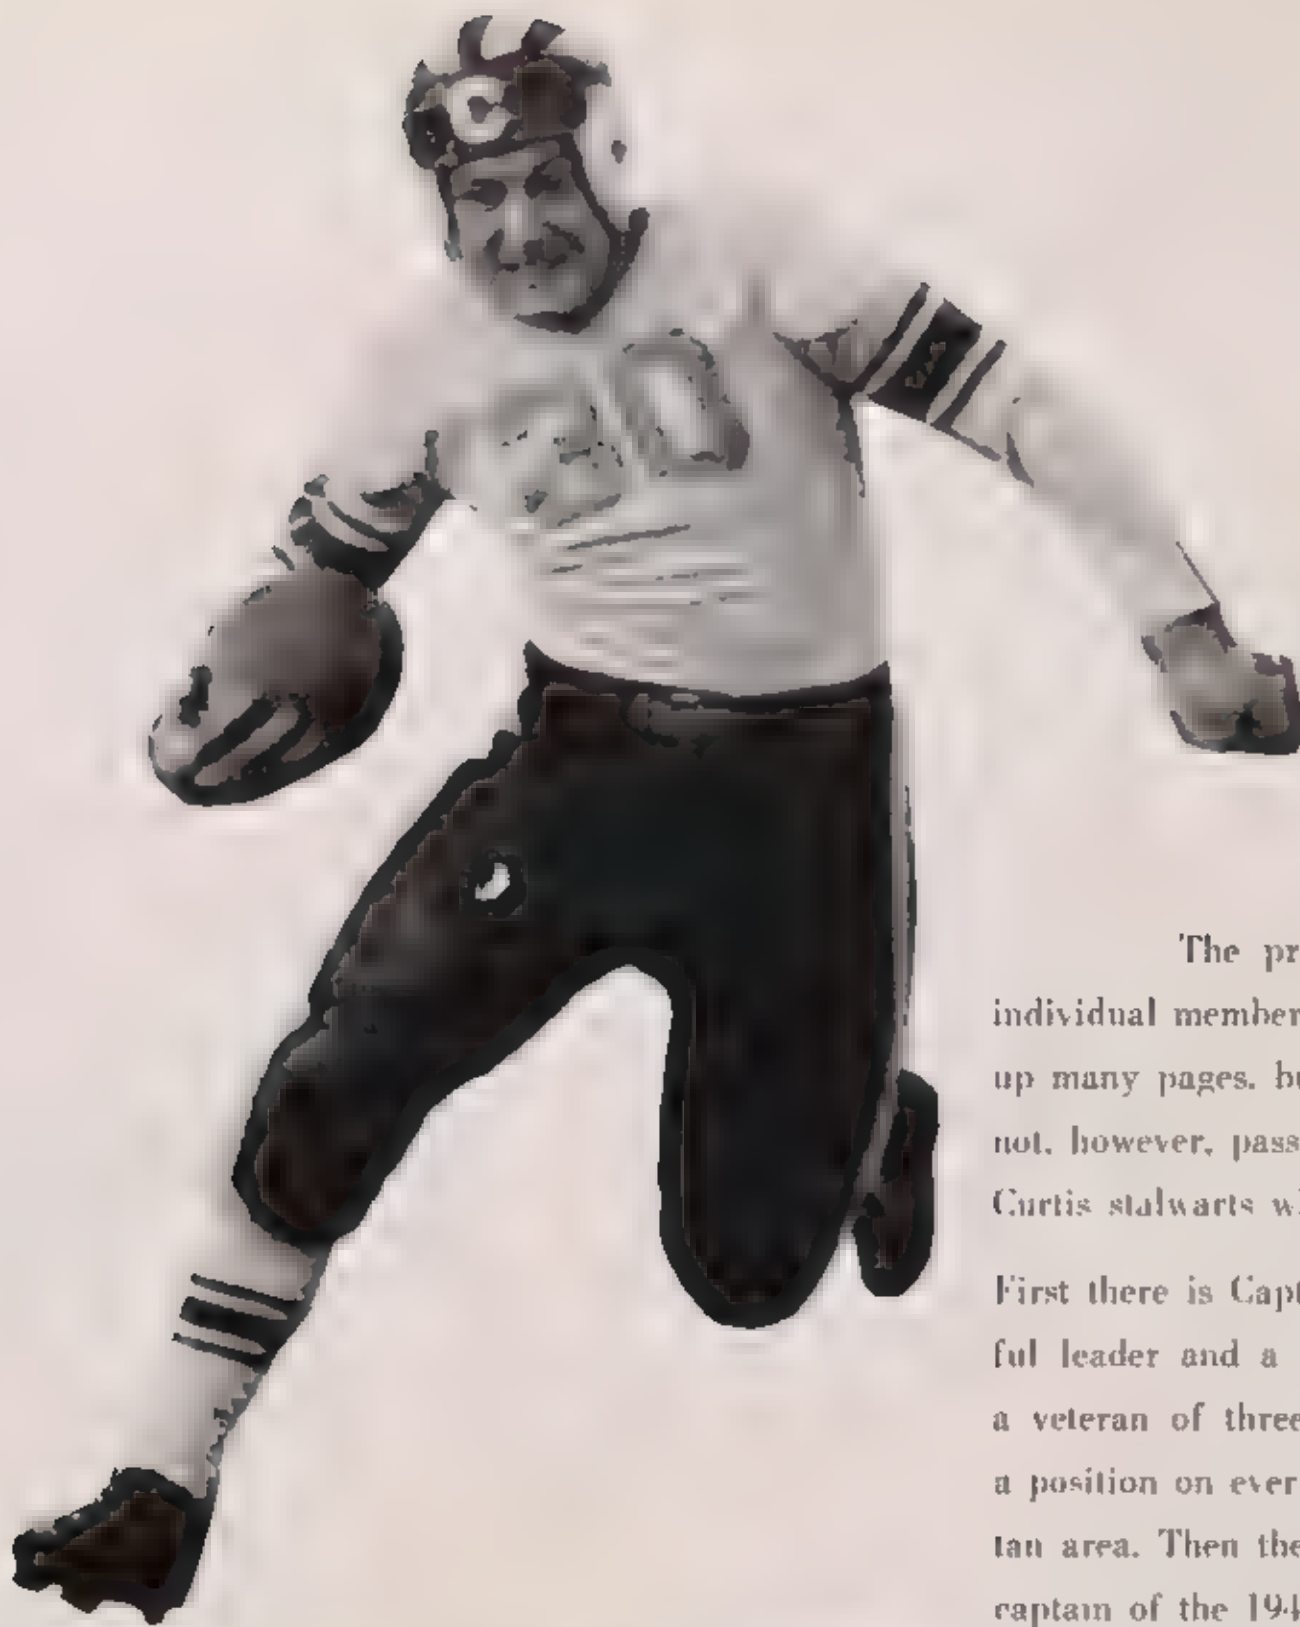

The White Warriors of Curtis opened the 1911 season undefeated in their last line games. Determined to keep the fall rolling, the boys played hard and well with that well-known competitive spirit of Curtis teams, winning six out of their seven games and fighting to a scoreless tie in their last game of the season.

The team from Roosevelt High School was the first to fall victim to the onslaughts of the Curtis eleven which won 12-0.

Curtis' second game was a test of ability to overcome a strong opponent. Stuyvesant High, regarded as a sure winner by many "experts," scored first. Curtis retaliated with three successive touchdowns. The final score was 19-9. After this victory the Somma Men were well on their way to another championship. The Curtis players, with new confidence in themselves, overwhelmed their next two opponents, Jefferson and McKee, 31-0 and 39-0, respectively. Curtis' fifth game proved to be a tough one. It was contested with Curtis' traditional rival, New Dorp High School. Although the score was only 6-0 in Curtis' favor, New Dorp was "pushed all over the lot." Curtis gained a total of 387 yards and made 22 first downs. Seward Park was the next unhappy visitor to Thompson Stadium. The East Siders put up a game battle but were overcome by the Staten Island boys, 12-7. The seventh and final game was an intersectional contest. The team from St. Gabriel's High School, "out Pennsylvania way," faced the Curtis football squad in one of the most evenly matched games in the history of Curtis football. But the Saints and the "city slickers," as the Curtis players were called by the jesting Pennsylvanian boys, fought to a scoreless deadlock!

The White Warriors of Curtis remained undefeated in sixteen starts extending over a period of three years!

The praises that should be sung about the individual members of the 1911 football team would fill up many pages, but lack of space forbids this. We cannot, however, pass on without singling out a few of the Curtis stalwarts who gave their all for dear old Curtis.

First there is Captain Ralph "Fudge" DiStasio, a faithful leader and a brilliant quarterback. Marty Jurkops, a veteran of three years, comes second, having earned a position on every all-scholastic team in the metropolitan area. Then there is Tony Gaeta, running guard and captain of the 1942 squad, who played a hang-up game all season. The first-string forward wall was completed with Dick Bergendale, Bill D'Eugenio, Tony Ferrara and Dan Monohan.

The backfield was called the best in the history of Curtis by Coach Sal Somma. Curtis rooters will never forget the power running of "Red" Rycowitch and "Big John" Siano, the brilliant ball-carrying of Vinnie Castellucci and quick-stepping Tom Fawcett. Special mention should be made of Bob Spamer whose great improvement in play and scholastic record won him the trophy awarded annually to the most deserving player by Coach Somma. The reserves were all capable and showed their ability on more than one occasion.

We would like to express our appreciation to Trainer Tex Dawson who has kept the Curtis football players in good physical condition for so many years. And finally, we can do no more than pay a humble tribute to Coach Sal Somma whose patience and expert advice piloted the team to its championship. Coach Somma has left the field of friendly battle, the gridiron, to join the United States Naval Forces in another kind of battle, the battle for freedom and democracy. We wish him as much success with the Navy as with his championship football teams at Curtis.

BASKETBALL

The Curtis Basketball Team won the Staten Island championship and reached the play-off games at Madison Square Garden for the third successive year under the winning direction of Coach Harry O'Brien. To do this, the Curtisites had to overcome the fine Tottenville team in the Island play-off. This game was said to be the most exciting of the season, Curtis winning 35-34. The team played seventeen games, six of which were league games. The only league game lost was the first contest with Tottenville. Curtis lost to Andrew Jackson High School at the Garden before thousands of students from school who journeyed en masse to witness the game. The highlight of the season was a three-day excursion to South Jersey. The Curtis team defeated the Tri-county All-stars at Woodstown 55-22. They also played the Merchantsville High School team but lost 34-22.

During the trip to South Jersey, the boys had a great deal of fun and unusual experiences. Coach Harry O'Brien arranged for the boys to stay at farms. They drove tractors, milked cows, pitched hay and did other farm chores. For many boys, this was their first taste of farm life.

At mid-season, the team lost captain Ralph Moscato and Gerry Ginsburg through graduation. This was a serious blow, but Doug Watson who was elected to succeed Moscato as captain, and Danny McGrath carried most of the burden for the rest of the season. Walter Majeski and Al Bovino also demonstrated their abilities when the going was the toughest. The other players, Jim McGrath, John Sammon, Vin Lawless and Jay Quintana were always willing and capable to do their part to relieve the regulars.

BASEBALL

The 1912 Baseball Team, headed by captain Al Bovino, opened its activities this spring with many new faces in the lineup. The absence of veterans was compensated for by many promising newcomers. Curtis partisans, proud of the spirited '12 team, saw the Curtis boys lose two games early in the season and then come from behind to defeat the impressive teams from Tottenville and Port Richmond and win the eighth consecutive championship of Staten Island for Curtis. Coach Harry O'Brien, the sage of Curtis baseball, attributed the losses to weak hitting. Defensively, however, the team was tops; it was well drilled and played heads-up ball at all times.

SWIMMING

In the January graduation, the Curtis Swimming Team lost almost half of its veterans. Coach Robert Gaffney said, however, that the team had a good season. "Mr. G," as Coach Gaffney is known affectionately to the boys on the team, predicted a bright future for some of the lower termers who were a match even for the older mermen. Some of the veterans who helped to make the '41-'42 season a success were Jim Mange, ace backstroker, Ray Hegel, James "Bim" Wheeler, Bob Gleckner and Roy Spangler. Buddy Weber and Al Esposito were outstanding in the diving department.

TRACK

The Curtis Track Team with twenty-four members had one of its most successful seasons in recent years. Coach Carl Jung spent long hours on the Curtis field with the tracksters, teaching the boys the finer points of track competition. The team was headed by captain Arthur Patterson, a top-notch miler. Wallace Murray, diminutive Curtis track star, blazed across the finish line in first place in a mile race, among competitors representing some of the leading high schools of the city at the Bronx Coliseum oval. This feat established Wallace as one of the foremost high school milers in the city! Other outstanding members of the track team are veterans George Yater, Robert Young and Bob Cook. Among the sprinters are Bob Messner, Warren Barcalow, Herb Dawson, George Pfeiffer and Arthur Stamler. In the field events, Tony Morelli and Costa Tesnakis are the high-jump experts, and Tony Ferrara, Anthony Gaeta and Edward Pfaff, the shotputters.

GIRLS HOCKEY

In the midst of Curtis' vast field may be seen a shivering group of girls huddled together and watching their chattering teammates whack each other's shins in their attempts to get a skill sh ball. It is the fall hockey season and the girls are competing in inter-term tournaments for the hockey championships. The wings lean disconsolantly on their hockey sticks. Then, as the ball rolls to the alley, they're off, tearing down the length of the field, only to miss the goal. However, under the direction of Mrs. Stone, many fundamental techniques are learned and the goal becomes less elusive.

There's an art to everything, and Basketball is by no means an exception. After all, anyone can shoot at a basket, but how many can really take aim and get the ball in? Practice makes perfect, so the girls, ably encouraged by Miss Ker, eventually master the guard and forward positions. After midterms, the girls start their inter-team tournaments. Teams are picked and the players are awarded positions according to their merit. Rivalry is keen, but throughout, the girls display a true sense of sportsmanship.

GIRLS BASKET BALL

WATER BALLET

Curtis adds another event to its fast growing list of extra-curricular activities—The Water Ballet—a spectacular program put on annually by the water-minded boys and girls of Curtis.

In this year's presentation, a variety of figures were executed by the swimmers, among which were the star and fountain formations. Several humorous features were also part of the program. An obstacle race in which boys wore nightgowns and carried candles brought forth roars of hilarious laughter. An old-fashioned picnic at the beach was staged as another main event, in which bathing suits of the gay nineties were worn by the participants. Exhibition diving was performed by Jimmy Barnes, and at the close of the performance, the boys, aroused to gay spirits, submerged their good-natured coach, Mr. Gaffney, into the pool.

The huge success of the Water Ballet is due to the able leadership of Miss Ripley and Mr. Gaffney. Together with the mermaids and mermen, these two teachers put on a never-to-be-forgotten spectacle.

CHRISTMAS PAGEANT AND REUNION

An old Curtis custom which occurs year after year is the Christmas Alumni Reunion. Former Curtis students look forward to it as a time when they can come back to their Alma Mater to see their former teachers and friends, and to reminisce about "those good old days".

At last year's reunion, aside from the usual college crowd, there were many boys wearing uniforms of the various branches of our armed forces. As usual, tea and cookies were served in the foyer while teachers and alumni chatted about old times and new. As an enjoyable finish to the day, the old students strolled down to the boys' gym, not for exercises this time, but for dancing.

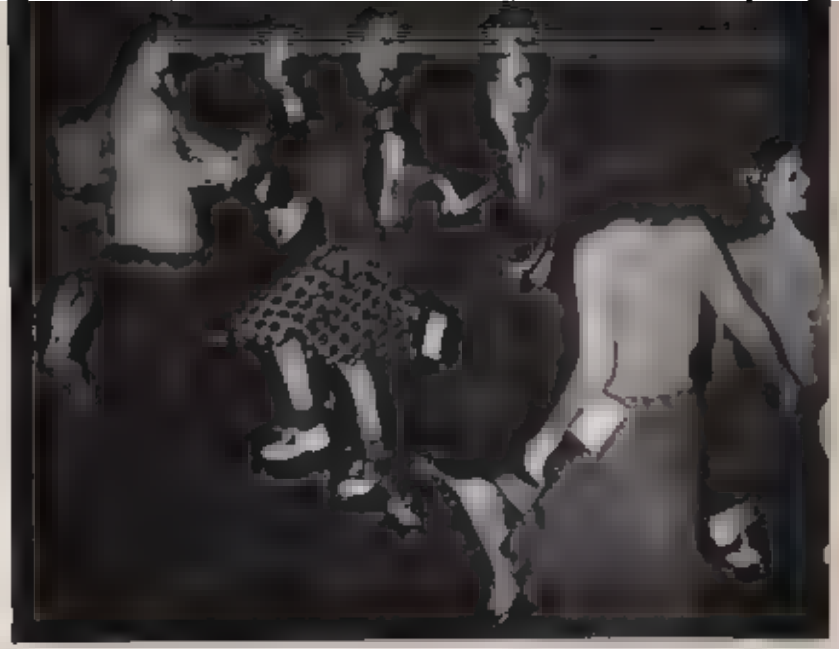

'Twas the night before Christmas—Wait a Minute!
 'Twas a few minutes before the Christmas pageant That's it! A puff of powder, a dab of lip stick, and a comb through the hair, and the pageant was on
 With a medieval castle as its background, girls and boys in costume sang and danced. Authentic carols of the 12th century were sung by the Curtis Choir under the direction of George S. Dare of the music department

The duel between St. George and the Turk was an exciting and hilarious part of the pageant. The clicking swords and the final blow provided breathless entertainment for the entire assembly

At the finale the cast formed into a procession and marched along the aisles of the auditorium as they sang the last of the Christmas carols

Swing and Sway

JANUARY

Throughout the Upper Senior Register Rooms, heads were seen bent over attractive circulars. Pencils were taken out and the upper-classmen signed with the flourishing scrawl of Seniors. Thus the announcement of the first Senior Class Party was heralded. The girls were cautioned to dress in a collegiate manner. What were we in for?

When the long awaited day arrived, a bevy of students could be seen rushing towards the boys' gym. Soon the fun began. The Seniors proved their versatility by their rendition of the various popular dance steps. However this was soon forgotten as the square dancing was introduced. From a Virginia Reel the couples went into a Grand March. Led by the class officers, the Seniors proved that the floor could hold them. Then, a circle was formed and the students energetically went through a Paul Jones. During this lively session, the odor of food was detected. Refreshments were served by the mighty football team, who had had excellent experience in guarding. More dancing followed and then obstacle races took the spotlight. Laughter and shouting accompanied the participants. Winners were awarded baby prizes and then forgotten as the beat—one-two—three—kick claimed the audience. The Conga, as performed by the entire body, provided much entertainment. As the line gradually diminished to the last strains of the music, jitterbugs "swung" out in true spirit. 'til the tune of Home Sweet Home fittingly put an end to the merrymaking.

One and all looked forward to the next Senior Party. The second Party, although not as good as its predecessor, was another event to be added to the Red Letter Days of the Senior Calendar

Two by Two

P R O M

November twenty-ninth was the big night! Grownup for a while, young couples in gala attire streamed into the boys' gymnasium, which had been magically transformed into an undersea paradise. Mermaids and fish of all sizes and colors, dangling from the ceiling, and seagreen crepe paper on the wall made the illusion complete. Girls in evening gowns and young men in tuxedos, danced to the melodious music of the orchestra, while members of the faculty, resplendent in their formal attire, also enjoyed themselves immensely. The highlight of the prom was the grand march, led by our principal, Mr. Avent. During the evening, soft drinks and assorted cookies were served. When the last strains of music had ceased, and the hands of the clock pointed to twelve, the festive group left reluctantly, knowing that it would never forget that night of nights.

JUNE SENIOR PARTY

The June Senior Party, held on Friday the thirteenth had as its amusing and challenging theme, "Good Luck". Black cats, often thought of in connection with Friday the thirteenth, decorated the walls of the boys' gym. Dominic Massa, permanent class treasurer and an able master of ceremonies, led the willing and fun-loving seniors in the dance elimination contest and in various games. Six of the more daring students entered the milk drinking contest, which was equally enjoyed by the audience as well as the participants. A novel event was the grand march under the ladder. Of course, everyone joined the snake-like Conga chain until it completely encircled the gym. Swing and sweet records in a "juke box" provided the students with music for dancing. The famished seniors devoured the "hot dogs", sandwiches, and punch before the last call to "come and get it" was heard. The Good Luck party of the June graduating class was, for everyone who attended, a festive occasion.

FIELD DAY

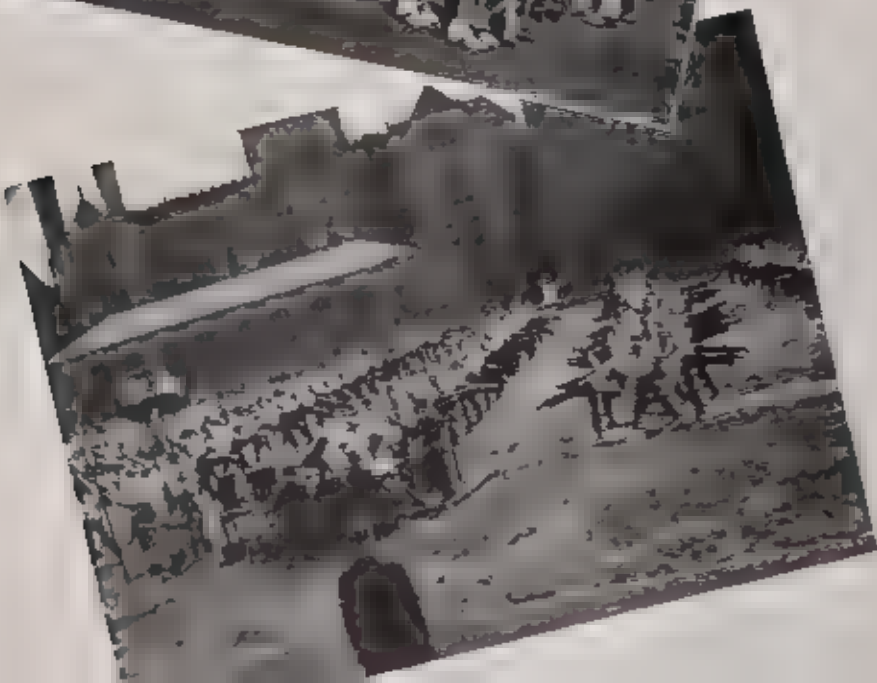

"Though we are met in what seems to be a military formation," Mr. John M. Avent, our principal, said, "It is good to know that we are not preparing to destroy the happiness of others, but to build happiness for ourselves." The occasion was our annual Field Day, at which, members of the different classes competed in various sports events.

As usual, the class of '12 came out on top, compiling a score of forty seven and a half points.

The mass drill events, which had been revived this year, thrilled the spectators. More than 1,300 girls in gym outfits demonstrated three dances with beautiful precision.

Members of the Curtis apparatus team displayed their ability on the parallel bars. Attired in dark trousers and white shirts, the boys went through two sets of impressive drill exercises and pyramids.

Throughout, the lusty cheers of all and the gay playing of the school band showed that the gathering was really one of joy.

GRADUATION

A hush fell over all in Feldman Hall as the graduates marched in to the strains of "God of Our Fathers". Their faces portrayed suppressed excitement and a bit of stage fright.

The invocation, a rustle of skirts, the click of seats, and the Graduation Exercises had started. The program followed in the usual manner with the welcoming address, the presentation of special awards, music by the orchestra, singing by the graduates, and the message to the graduates. But, this program was special, for this was their graduation for which they had worked four years; these were members of their own class receiving awards; the words spoken were directed particularly to them. It was a jovous occasion, yet a sad one, for who can tell of the memories and the thoughts of parting in the minds of the graduates. And then, came the most solemn part of the program; the individual conferring of diplomas by our principal, Mr. John M. Avent. Midst the applause and the proud and happy smiles of their parents and teachers, the graduates walked to the platform to receive the coveted symbol. Suddenly, the exercises were over, and the graduates marched out to be greeted by teachers, family and friends, and then to return home to celebrate this special occasion.

OUR ADVERTISERS

Congratulations

ON A FOUR-STAR ANNUAL

THE MEMBERS of the BJH college organization would very much like to extend their sincere congratulations for a book of distinctive and distinguished merit.

It has been a great pleasure to work with the 1912 staff, to collaborate in the planning and creation of the book, and to go on record as appreciating the fine spirit and splendid co-operation which was so manifest at all stages of the work.

For more than forty years, many of America's most notable yearbooks have come from the BJH presses. It is a service to college yearbook staffs that has been augmented in many important ways, an experience of constantly mounting value to those whose classmates entrust them with the challenge of making their book superior to all the fine books that have preceded it.

And it is because we so keenly relish the opportunity to have a part in the acceptance of that challenge that we look forward to working with future yearbook staffs with the same fervor, the same right hand of assistance, that made the creation of this excellent annual such a mutually gratifying experience.
